DENTIMAX, INC. RELEASES PATIENT KIOSK ON THE CLOUD

With a computer or mobile device, patients can now fill out their "paperwork" in the software's web kiosk.

Mesa, AZ, April 3, 2017 - DentiMax released a cloud-based kiosk to make it convenient for patients to provide their complete health histories and insurance information.

Using any smart phone, tablet or computer, patients can now go to the practice's web kiosk to complete their "paperwork." This enables the office staff to review the information, ensuring its completeness and accuracy, before uploading it into their practice's software.

"With the DentiMax Kiosk, the office staff spends less time typing and more time caring for patients." Co-founder David Arnett explains. "It really reduces the time, cost and paper it takes to collect information from a patient."

Dental offices expressed concern that their patients' handwriting on registration forms was less than optimal and that it was time consuming to reenter into the computer. After working closely with customers, DentiMax created this new user friendly web kiosk, enabling practices to collect information directly from patients. Now when new patients come into a "DentiMax Office," they bypass the wait and can be immediately seen.
